The Cowboy Supper Show

5:30PM Doors Open. Young musicians from the region get their chance to strut their stuff as they perform in the Barn to whet the artistic appetite

6:25PM The Showdown! An Old West tale of greed, revenge, robbery, jealousy and that's just the good stuff! Complete with special affects that work at least part of the time, and the funniest draw down this side of the Pecos!

A tautly-written, hardly remembered comico-drama that pits newly promoted Sheriff Dusty Bicuspid against the shifty and villainous banker, Bob Madeoff, who has eyes on the entire town of Spokane Bridge. The smelly old woodsman Skunk Forrester intrudes on the scene, introducing mayhem, confusion and odorific advice. And of course everybody vies for the heart (and pocketbook) of Catarina Sarsparilla (Miss Cat), the owner of the town's only saloon, the Catina. In the end, the audience decides the fate of good versus evil and then.....everybody goes to dinner!

7:00PM Supper/Dinner/Food Food Food! Some of our guests spend longer to get here than cattle on the old Chisholm Trail just to sample the spread at the Rockin' B.

Included in your price of admission:

--Inside top round of marinated beef roast, BBQ'd whole and sliced to your liking AND boneless, skinless breast of chicken - marinated and grilled AND pork spareribs lathered in a marinade - good and messy.

To balance all that meat, you get various members of the other food groups: Homestyle cornbread with butter, trail music pinto beans, foil wrapped potato served with fixin's, applesauce, iced sheet cake, lemonade and Cowboy Coffee. For a slight additional cost you also step up to the Cantina for a cool dose of sarsaparilla, root beer, cream soda or other soft drinks.

8:00PM The Concert!

The finale of each night celebrates Western Music Entertainment in the tradition of such greats as Gene Autry, Roy Rogers, and The Sons of the Pioneers. The Riders of the Rockin' B are dedicated to the heritage and memories of the American Cowboy way of life. Filled with live Western music, lots of knee-slappin' comedy, storytelling and audience participation, our musical review hits all the cowboy highlights. Each concert will be punctuated with a 10-minute "McManus moment," featuring one of those zany Pat McManus characters who will delight the crowd.

This year, the musical performers are Scott and Pamela Brownlee, JayDean Ludiker, and Sam Mazzola, and the blend of their voices, their musicianship and their teamwork will please your ear and soul no end.

9:15 Or So: We bid you Happy Trails or Oreevoir until we ride again.
